Welcome

Dear Summer School Participant,

I write on behalf of the organising group to welcome you to the forthcoming Summer School 'The Victims' Directive - challenges and opportunities for RJ' of the European Forum for Restorative Justice in Lisbon, Portugal from 13 to 17 July 2015.

The Summer School began in 2005 in Pilzen in the Czech Republic and we have had summer schools every consecutive year since then. Feedback on each Summer School has been very positive with all participants enjoying the stimulating mix of study and relaxation in an international setting.

Like all our Summer Schools, a lot of work goes on behind the scenes arranging the details of the programme, agreeing a suitable venue and finding accommodation to list but a few of the many tasks. The organising group consists of Mirko Miceli from the Forum, Bruno Caldeira and Roberto Moreno, both Board Members of the Forum, Frauke Petzold, Chair of the Forum's Practice and Training Committee and myself, Niall Kearney RJ consultant and RJ tutor at the Law School of the University of Strathclyde .

We have every confidence that you will enjoy this year's Summer School. The theme is "The victims directive - challenges and opportunities for RJ"

Whatever else you bring to the Summer School be sure to bring an open mind and a willingness to learn in a pleasant environment. You will make new friends and contacts at our Summer School who can be a support to you in your future work.

We look forward to meeting you at 13.00 hrs on 13 July 2015 for the opening day of the Summer school held in the Psychology School of Lisbon.

If you have any practical question please contact the EFRJ Secretariat at +32.16.32.88.56.

Kind regards

Niall Kearney

Niall Kearney

Niall Kearney graduated from University College Dublin in 1981 with a BA (hons) in Philosophy; he went on to finish a BD (hons) in the Milltown Institute in 1985. In 1999 he completed a Masters in Social Work at the University of Edinburgh.

Niall has extensive experience in restorative justice practice, training, policy development, service delivery and management gained in Scotland and mainland Europe. He managed Sacro's (Safeguarding Communities Reducing Offending) Edinburgh diversion from prosecution services (1999-2006) and pioneered the use of restorative justice in cases of serious crime in Scotland from 2006 to 2009. He chaired the Practice and Training Committee of the European Forum for Restorative Justice from 2005 to 2009 with responsibility for the Forum's biennial Summer School and he was Chair of the Forum's Board from 2009 to 2012.

He is Restorative Justice Tutor on the LL/MSc Criminal Justice & Penal Change course run by Strathclyde University Law School's Centre for Law, Crime & Justice. He is currently engaged in the development of RISC (Restoration in Serious Crime) – an outreach project aimed at developing a practice model to address the harm caused in serious crime. He is a member of Restorative Justice Forum Scotland.

Frauke Petzold

After her studies in Educational Science at the University of Hannover, Frauke Petzold worked at the criminological research institute of Lower Saxony (1986 to 1995 ). She was involved in different projects like research on one of the first victim-offender-mediation programmes in Germany for juvenile offenders and their victims and in another project focussing on victims of criminal offences.

Since 1992 she has been working at Waage Hannover as mediators in VOM, Domestic Violence cases and highly escalated family conflicts.

In 1998 Frauke founded the Waage-Institute for conflict consulting, mediation, training and research runned together with Dr. Lutz Netzig providing training in conflict consulting and mediation to (i.e.) Ministry of Justice, Lower Saxony, schools (teachers and pupils), health organisations, companies, adult high schools and privat organisations as well as for volunteer mediators in victim offender mediation. From 2010 ongoing she is coordinating coordination and practicing a family court programme, consultation and mediation in highly escalated family conflicts.

From 2002 to 2008 Frauke was a Board member of the European Forum for Restorative Justice and she is currently the chair of the Practice and Training Committee of the EFRJ.
